Web-Based Emails Now Configured to Use a "No-Reply" Email Address As the "From" Address

To prevent web-based emails from being blocked or sent to a customer's spam folder, the system no longer sends outgoing emails from the user-defined "From" email address, sending them instead from a "no-reply" email address that uses this format: no-reply@parishsoft.com.

The illustration below shows an example of the new "no-reply" email configuration. Note that it includes the name of the organization selected by the logged-in user:

Little Flower <no-reply@parishsoft.com>
To: Andre Haysely
